MEN FROM SNOWY RIVER BOOK LAUNCH

Last Sunday, despite the turn of inclement weather, the Delegate School of Arts was crowded for the launch of Natalie Armstrong's book, The Men from Snowy River. Natalie, a well known, local identity has written her book on the recruitment March, in 1916, from Delegate to Goulburn and the men who were in it. Ian Sellers, President of the DPA, was the MC for the occasion, Councillor Bateman, said a few words on behalf of the Bombala Council. Under the guidance of John and Penelope Judge, the Delegate 'Mob', children from the local school marched in to the beat of a drum, sang a song or two and a poem was read, all done very well, considering that they have only had a couple of practices. The children were well behaved, a credit to their school, parents and teachers, taking their job seriously, dressed as they were in old time costumes, a lovely result. Well done!

The updated Honour roll was unveiled by Guest of Honour, Jennifer Collins, Dep. Commissioner Veterans Affairs, who said she was delighted and honoured to have been invited by Natalie to do the book launch. She said "She was a proud, born and bred product of Delegate and has a framed print of The Men from Snowy River Flag outside her office". Her address was impressive and moving, quoting letters and incidents from World War 1, including excerpts from Natalie's book.

Natalie responded, thanking those who had helped, especially Sandra O'Hagan for her research of the men's military records and her daughter Cathy for her help with formatting the photos.

The new book sold well on the day and copies will be available at the RTC and local shops later. Further book launches and information days are coming up at Bombala, Cooma, Goulburn and finally at Queanbeyan on December 3rd with Dr Brendon Nelson, Director of the Australian War Memorial, who is also Patron of The Men from Snowy River March Committee.

LAUGHTER THE BEST MEDICINE

An elderly man is pulled over by the police at 2am and asked where he is going at this time of night.

The man replies, "I'm on my way to a lecture about alcohol abuse and the effects it has on the human body, as well as smoking and staying out late."

The officer then asks, "Really? Who's giving a lecture like that at this time of night?"

The man replies, "That would be my wife."

MADHATTERS MADNESS

Saturday's spring weather made the Spring into Spring fun day at Delegate Bill Jeffreys Park a fantastic way to celebrate the Mad Hatters Tea Party. The park was beautifully decorated with seasonal flowers thanks to Beryl Phillips, tables set up for tea parties thanks to the Op Shop, fantastic decorations done by the children of Delegate Public School and a maze for the kids to roam and get lost in.

With the scene for a tea party set, the addition of delicious cup cakes, hot dogs and fantastic tea and coffee, everyone enjoyed the fun. There were plenty of cupcakes for the kids to decorate as mad or as pretty as they wished.

The Mad Hatters Treasure Hunt throughout the park kept the children searching for a while. The kids can't wait to do it again. The fun filled day of activities and food was a great success.

Thank you to all who have supported this event and helped with the fundraising. Thank you to the mothers that baked and the staff and teachers of Delegate Public School for their efforts during their art classes and the Stephanie Alexander Kitchen.

On the day we had a small fund-raiser for Freddy McKenna, who was hospitalised after a tragic accident. The day started with a cake stall at the General Store and raffles followed by donations and lunch at Bill Jeffreys park, with just over $500.00 to support the family when they return back home. The money will be distributed to local businesses for food vouchers and to have a helping hand with the yard when they return home. Thank you to everyone who baked, ate and supported this fund raiser, Delegate General Store and Delegate Cafe, your support and donations were greatly appreciated.

The raffle was drawn by Doreen Standen,

1st prize—Irene Butterworth, 2nd prize—Alan Hans,

3rd prize— Gloria Cotterill, 4th prize-Helen Jamieson and 5th prize—Jamie Preston.

HAPPY 60th TO NORMAN TALBOT

Local transport owner Norman Talbot celebrated at the Country Club with family and friends on the occasion of his 60th birthday which was meant to be a surprise, but we suspect he may have heard a whisper after all. Food and liquid refreshments were in plentiful supply, but the Southerly gale which arrived made the cooking of a pig on the spit quite a difficult undertaking. However they managed and guests were able to sit down to a hearty meal.

DELEGATE GOLF SHOOT OUT

A group of keen local golfers braved the elements on Sunday for the inaugural golf shoot out. A novelty game which includes playing 9 holes, with one dropping out of the competition at each hole.

Last men standing were Barry Reed and Coopy Baker, with Barry being the ultimate winner.

The event was voted a success and another such day is planned in February 1915.

FORMER DELEGATE RESIDENTS MEET UP.

Greg and Scrub Crotty recently went on a tour of the South Coast and caught up with some former residents of the town, including Anthony Roberts, Margaret Ralphs, Nell Southam and Laurie Walsh. Margaret lives in Ulladulla, Anthony in Nowra, Nell and Laurie in Wollongong. Greg said all send their best wishes back to their friends in Delegate.

POSTAL BOX HAS BEEN MOVED.

The post box pictured used to reside at the corner of Bombala Street and Victoria Parade and Australia Post has moved to the front of the local store, just three metres away from the other post box. We are puzzled as to the reasoning behind this move, but have been told that anything posted in the red mail box goes straight to Canberra, whilst the other mail goes to Bombala to be sorted before going further.

Complicated??

MELBOURNE CUP LUNCHEON AND FASHION PARADE

On a beautiful warm, sunny Melbourne Cup day, the Tuesday Club held their luncheon and fashion parade at the Delegate Country Club. A good crowd attended with quite a few from Bombala and across the Border. A delicious lunch was served, with a great variety of salads. The crowd was kept busy with a Cup Quiz, organised by Louise Manning and sweeps provided by Sharon Buckman. Then it was time for the fashion parade with fabulous outfits from the Delegate Anglican OP Shop. Joan Jones, our only Tuesday Club member, again showed that age is no barrier for fun and doing it with style. Janice, Denielle and Karen also graced the catwalk with flair and style, along with Denielle's little daughter, Bella, who stole the show. Our first time male models, Henry Sellers and Terry O' Hagan also strutted their way, doing an incredible job at their first outing, no doubt they'll be in great demand for future shows. Jayne Sellers kept the crowd informed with a commentary on different outfits and was suitably dressed in an outfit from "La OP Shop Boutique". Thank you, Jayne. Some features of the parade were a display of beautiful Vintage dresses and shoes, Wedding dresses, evening dresses and bridesmaid dresses, which everyone agreed was a great display.

Several prizes were given, 1) most stylish outfit ... Dot Hepburn, 2) most glamorous hat ...Audrey Armstrong, 3) most fascinating fascinator ...Marie Chapman. There were also number of lucky door prizes given. A special thanks must go to the Op Shop and the ladies who work there, the generous use of their clothes and support. Thanks also to all who helped make it a successful fun day, to those who donated food, Sue, Trina and Lorraine in the kitchen, the models and their helpers behind the scenes, including little star, Bella, a sincere thank you. Remember our local op shop is open Tues., Thursday and Sat. Come and browse, you are sure to find a bargain.

TUESDAY CLUB HAPPENINGS

In spite of a cold, wet and windy day on Oct. 14th, a small group of Tuesday Club Members spent an enjoyable day in Bombala. A delicious lunch was had at the Heritage Restaurant, where Les showed the group some historic photos of his grandfather, James Ryan, who owned a carrier business in Delegate. There were also some early photos of Bombala which were very interesting. We then went to Lavender House where we were treated to a hand massage with lavender oil and given an information talk about the many medicinal uses of common weeds. Afternoon tea was provided, including Lavender Tea and cookies. Thank you to Karen and Peter for an enjoyable afternoon..

FENCING BEES FOR BONANG FIRE AFFECTED FARMERS

Hundreds of kilometres of fences, both internal and boundary, were either fully or partially destroyed by last summer's devastating bushfires in the Bonang/Tubbut and Glenaladale areas.

As farmers continue to find their feet after the February blazes, a group of local volunteer fire fighters continue to chip in and lend a hand to erect new or help repair damaged fencing.

Co-ordinated by long-time fencing volunteer and Mt Taylor Fire Brigade stalwart, Alan Stuart, a group recently visited the Far East as part of the ongoing recovery work.

Di Robinson, of Rural Family Services, recently contacted Mr Stuart to see if something could be done in the Bonang and Tubbut area to help the farmers and local community still trying to get back on their feet.

Mr Stuart obliged and put together a band of 13 willing volunteers for a weekend in Bonang during September to help pull down burnt fences and put up some replacement fences. Out of these 13 volunteers, there were members from five different fire brigades – not a common occurrence without the heat of a fire in one weekend.

Ms Robinson provided a dinner on the Saturday night for the volunteers and local community, where some of the stresses of the community were lessened through talking and laughing with the volunteers.

Previously, on the 30th May, a group of Delegate and Cabanandra Campdraft members also held a working B to remove a section of burnt fencing and erect a new fence on that site. Cabanandra Campdraft Club has also donated a pack of 400 steel posts to assist.

BOMALA SHIRE NEXT ON THE NBN LIST.

Local residents are a step closer to receiving the superfast broadband with plans now underway for the construction of a new fixed wireless facility for the area. The fixed wireless network will utilise advanced 4G technology to deliver speeds of up to 25 megabits per second which is faster than the ADSL in major cities. Once completed the new fixed wireless network will enable better access to e-health and distance education services. Community consultations across Eden-Monaro will now begin to bring fixed wireless services to outlying areas in both the Bombala and Delegate districts.

Funnies

A nun gets into a taxi, and the driver keeps staring at her. She asks him why is he staring and he replies, "I have a question to ask you but I don't want to offend you."

She answers, 'My dear son, you cannot offend me.

When you're as old as I am and have been a nun a long as I have, you get a chance to see and hear just about everything. I'm sure that there's nothing you could say or ask that I would find offensive."

"Well, I've always had a fantasy to have a nun kiss me."

She responds, "Well, let's see what we can do about that: #1, you have to be single and #2 you must be Catholic."

The cab driver is very excited and says, "Yes, I am single and I'm Catholic too!"

The nun says "OK, pull into the next alley." He does and the nun fulfils his fantasy. But when they get back on the road, the cab driver starts crying.

"My dear child," said the nun, "why are you crying?"

"Forgive me sister, but I have sinned. I lied, I must confess, I'm married and I'm Jewish."

The nun says, "That's OK, my name is Kevin and I'm on my way to a Halloween party."

Bearded Iris and Summer Plantings

Without those severe late frosts that have been a feature of recent years plus the bonus of lots of rain it has been a very kind Spring. Fruit trees are carrying lots of fruitlets and all around the town the gardens are full of colour.

Clumps of bearded iris are putting on a vivid display at present. The iris family is a large one but the most commonly grown type here is the bearded iris and these really suit our climate because they need a lot of winter frost to initiate flowers. The only problem that could occur is that our summers are not hot enough to keep their rhizomes in good health. They are prone to rotting if not exposed to a good baking so it is essential that the rhizomes lay on top of the soil and that they do not get covered by mulch or creeping plants. Another bonus is that after flowering the plants do not require watering unless it becomes very droughty and that these iris do particularly well if they receive reflected heat from paving or stone mulch. Keeping the plants hot and dry avoids the fungal spot that is the most common disease problem. When grown in the shade or too crowded the waxy coating on the leaves is not as thick which allows entry of fungal spores and encourages slug and snail attack. Bearded iris prefer an alkaline conditions so if the soil is well limed the cell walls are stronger further increasing their resistance to fungal problems.

To keep the clumps vigorous it is a good idea to thin them out straight after flowering by removing those parts that have borne flowers as these will not flower again. The next year's flowers are always carried on new growth which is the small side shoots that form on the older rhizomes. Bearded iris have been extensively hybridised which has greatly increased flower size and colour range but at the expense of perfume which also happened with the early days of rose breeding. There are also dwarf forms, some growing only 20 cms. that are ideal for pots or the front of beds and these have the advantage of being wind resistant.

It is an exciting time during November when all the elements of growing summer vegetables come together at last. Successful plantings become feasible when the soil temperature, night temperature, day length and soil moisture all synchronise to produce the fast growth essential to vegetable production.

It is helpful to keep these few key points in mind when making decisions about summer varieties.

1. The above ground growth is always limited by the night temperatures. Plants absorb the sun's energy during the day and this is used during the night to manufacture all the constituents required for plant growth. Because the rate of chemical reactions is in line with with increasing temperatures this energy cannot be fully utilised if cold nights follow much warmer days.
2. Growth is ultimately controlled by soil temperature. When soil is warm roots can grow and explore the soil faster and take up water and nutrients efficiently. Cold soil makes roots inactive and vulnerable to disease.
3. Since soil temperature is always the dominant factor determining growth applying mulch is not always wise in our climate. Mulch keeps soil cool which is fine in mid-summer but counter-productive when trying to get the soil warm early in the season to start tomatoes, beans, corn etc.

Although it is always tempting to plant early there is little to gain as the odd cold night interrupts the smooth growth cycle that is so important to the highly selected vegetable varieties that are the race horses of the plant world. Seedlings sitting around in cold soil struggle and are ultimately overtaken by later plantings. Fewer plants grown at peak time are far less trouble and far more productive than those struggling through less than ideal conditions. In any event it promises to be a good tomato year.

WEDDING

Maree Ingram and James Coates were married on 4th October 2014 on their property at 'Goldsands' Cathcart and the reception was held at the Merimbula Golf Club. Maree's bridesmaids were her sisters, Brooke, Patrice & Monique. While James' groomsmen were Clay Clear and his 2 brothers Chris and Daniel. The day was blessed with lovely weather and Bradley Matthews and his Clydesdale, Prince, escorted Maree to the ceremony in style. The couple were surrounded by close friends and family on the day and then made their way to Fiji for their honeymoon.

HERE & THERE

Happy birthday to all who celebrate birthdays in November. We have just a small list this month, please let us know you know of any more.

Norman Talbot, Terry O'Hagan, John Callaway, Jessi Reed, Jack Reed, Riley Hall, Allan Cotterill.

A special birthday greeting to Curly Taylor who turned 99 on 30th October.

A very special wedding anniversary coming up, when Enid and Jack Stewart celebrate their 60 years of married life on 22nd November at the Delegate Country Club. They will be joined by their family and many friends

Happy 21st Birthday to David Mustard, who is celebrating with family and friends at the Country Club on Saturday 15th November. David moved to Melbourne to work after completing school at Bombala High and has chosen his home town as the venue for his special party.

The death occurred recently in Bombala Hospital after a prolonged illness of local lady Ann Quinn. Ann lived here during her early married life, and returned in later years with her daughter Margaret to make their home in Delegate. She is survived by four children, three girls and one boy. Sympathy is extended to all

The Delegate Tennis Club has started their spring competition.

Have you put in your ideas about what can be done to improve Delegate's main street. The mowing of the long grass which was such an eyesore is a start. The latest planting of flowering trees should make a show in future years, but everyone who lives in the town will need to play their part. A tidy town will attract visitors and put more value on homes.

Delegate's annual golf tournament is on this month. The course is looking magnificent which of course applies to the whole countryside with a bright green not seen for a long time. Organisers are hoping for a good roll up for this popular event from Delegate to Canberra has reduced it's travel days, but in future will be calling at two extra stops, Queanbeyan hospital and Kingston Railway Station. It is an excellent service which makes up for the Countrylink inconvenient timetable.

From all reports the Anglican Garden Day was a great success with the garden viewing completed before the advent of the cold blustery change.

We are getting plenty of enquiries on Facebook regarding the Men from Snowy River re-enactment march next year. There is a lot of interest and we feel it will keep "snowballing" just as the march did 100 years ago

The books will be on sale at the RTC and at the Bombala Newsagency. For enquiries re postal orders contact the RTC Delegate at 64588388.

There is also much interest in the children's choir, with schools throughout the district anxious to take part. The Delegate youngsters performed very well at their initial performance.
